ABDI DEK AWALEH ADEN

Teacher

Graduate of Islamic University of Minnesota — Master’s degree, 2026

Summary

An educator and specialist in educational administration with a distinguished career spanning back to 2010 in the educational sector of the Republic of Djibouti. He combines extensive field experience in teaching Arabic at public high schools under the Ministry of Education and Vocational Training with active involvement in the private education sector. This is further complemented by his specialized academic qualification in Educational Administration from the College of Education at the Islamic University of Minnesota (2026). This dual experience across both public and private sectors grants him a comprehensive vision and high competence in school leadership and the development of educational environments.
